SALARY HIKE FOR COUNCIL TOP EARNERS

SEVERAL senior officers at cash-strapped Harlow Council will reap the benefits of a New Year pay hike, even though the authority admits it could be facing a multi-million pound cash crisis.

The Star can reveal that eight of the Civic Centre's top earners will be getting a salary rise of up to £10,000 per year from April.

By CHRIS MOSS
mossc@hertsessexnews.co.uk

Chief executive Malcolm Morley is believed to be in line for the biggest increase, while two strategic directors and five heads of service will also benefit from the pay review.

The total cost of the package will amount to £47,500, although the council said it would save up to £20,000 a year by making two heads of service redundant and creating a new post of assistant chief executive.

The pay review was agreed behind closed doors at a meeting of the policy and resources committee on December 18.

Council leader Andrew Johnson said this week: "It was clear that salaries had been allowed to become uncompetitive and the administration decided not to duck the issue but to find a way to address it without incurring additional cost and instead saving money."

Committee chairman Simon Carter added:

"The senior management team has a track record of delivery for the council and we are a leader in the growth agenda in the eastern region.

"It is vitally important that the council retains and recruits the best managers to its most senior posts."

But Labour group leader Mark Wilkinson branded the pay hikes unacceptable and said the council should be concentrating its resources on helping struggling residents survive the economic downturn.

"I think it's wrong that the Tories approved these massive pay rises at a time like this," he told the Star. "The council should be doing all it can to help out the thousands of residents suffering during the credit crunch, not giving even more money to people who already earn huge salaries." Liberal Democrat leader Chris Millington agreed. "Considering these pay increases were pushed through by the Tories at the same meeting they claimed the council was in a financial mess seems a little disingenuous to me," he said.

Homes cleared in sci-fi 'bomb' alert

By LOUISE SASSOON
News Editor
sassooni@hertssexnews.co.uk

AN Army bomb disposal squad was scrambled and more than 100 people evacuated after concerns were raised about suspicious 'sci-fi' objects in a Harlow home.

Police were sent to Gladwin Way at 5.45am on Thursday after receiving reports of a man who appeared to be in possession of a longbow.

Armed officers and police negotiators arrived and arrested a man at about 8am.

However, officers called in a bomb disposal team from Colchester after concerns were raised about a number of 'unexplained items' which were found in an apartment.

A 100m cordon was put in place and everybody from the block of flats was evacuated as a precaution. A white Citroën car parked on the street was also towed away.

The cordon was in place for about eight hours before bomb squad officers were able to confirm the items which raised concern were in fact only household items crudely adapted into science fiction-style objects and were not a danger.

A 36-year-old man was arrested on suspicion of having an offensive weapon and has been released on police bail until February 4.

The situation alarmed residents in the otherwise quiet street, in the new Fifth Avenue development.

Nicola Stonehouse (33) lives opposite the apartment block and told the Star: "I got up to go to the toilet about 5.30am and there were loads of car doors banging.

"At first I thought it was just because people were coming back from New Year's Eve parties but obviously it was because people were being evacuated by the police.

"At about 3pm I saw a forensic team come and they went into the flat and took loads of things, away including a gas canister."

She added: "We were quite alarmed when we found out what had happened. It just shows that you never know what goes on inside other people's houses.

"Everyone around here just keeps themselves to themselves."

Childrenswear shop axed but M&S is safe

HARLOW has lost another store after administrators for the childrenswear chain Adams confirmed it was closing its branch in the Harvey Centre.

However, staff at the town's branch of Marks & Spencer breathed a sigh of relief yesterday (Wednesday) when the store was not included in a hitlist of 27 to be axed.

The Adams shop was one of 111 of the company's 271 stores to close after the company was placed into administration last month. The remaining 160 outlets will remain open while a buyer for the company is sought.

Poor trading figures over the Christmas and New Year period were believed to be the reason for the decision by M&S to axe 25 of its Simply Food stores and two of its department stores with the possible loss of 750 jobs.

In the 13 weeks to December 27, the chain's UK like-for-like sales fell by 7.1 per cent.

Homeless families to get housing priority

HOMELESS families have been reassured they will get top priority for rehousing.

With no families placed in temporary bed and breakfast accommodation compared to 28 in March 2008, Harlow Council has said homeless families are being prioritised under the Harlow Homefinder scheme.

Other rehousing schemes available include the Rent Deposit Guarantee Scheme.

About 70 households a month are currently contacting the town's housing options service and 31 per cent of inquiries come from homeless people.

Car owners warned to keep keys out of sight

CAR thieves have escaped with a fleet of expensive vehicles after fishing for keys through house windows and pet flaps.

The crooks have struck at several homes in Harlow in past weeks, prompting police to warn car owners.

The spate of thefts started when a Land Rover Discovery was taken from Roden Close between December 28-29. About the same time, a new Kia was taken from Quarry Springs after thieves reached in through a dog flap and took the keys.

A Land Rover Freelander and a BMW were stolen from Mallards Rise on December 31 by thieves who poked a stick through a cat flap to hook sets of keys.

On the same day, a Vauxhall Corsa was taken from Guilfords in Old Harlow after thieves forced open a window and snatched the keys.

Inspector Andy Bray of Harlow police warned: "Residents should always make sure they do not leave car keys, or any other keys, where they can be easily accessed via dog and cat flaps or letterboxes.

"They should always be put out of sight and the property properly secured at all times."

Anyone with information about any of the thefts should contact police on 0300 3334444.

Gun accused to stand trial

A MAN accused of possessing a pistol with intent to cause fear of violence to an ex-business associate pleaded not guilty to the charge when he appeared at Chelmsford Crown Court on Monday.

The trial of motor exporter Francis Monk (56), of Malkin Drive, Harlow, has been scheduled to start on May 27 and is expected to last up to a week.

It is alleged that Mr Monk committed the offence on October 9 last year.

FIREFIGHTERS from Harlow and surrounding areas have been working around the clock to battle a major blaze in Nazeing.

Flames engulfed a wood pile at a recycling centre in Birchwood Industrial Estate at about 2.40am on Monday.

Dozens of firefighters and at least 18 engines were called to tackle the fire, which continuing to burn yesterday (Wednesday) and is not expected to be fully extinguished until the end of the week.

The heat was so ferocious that firefighters were initially limited to monitoring and controlling the flames to stop them spreading.

They also tried to separate unburned wood from the pile.

At the fire's peak, the area of wood alight measured 2.47 acres (one hectare) and flames soared 10m (33ft) into the air, visible from as far away as Hoddesdon. Soot settled in the homes, cars and gardens of villagers living nearby.

Resident Patricia Taylor said: "I

By LOUISE SASSOON, News Editor
sassoonly@hertsessexnews.co.uk think whoever is in charge of that wood pile should pay for everyone's car in the village of Nazeing to be washed; I had a white convertible mini yesterday and when I got up this morning it was a shade of black."

The Environment Agency has said the damage to wildlife is unlikely to extend further than the pile itself.

Environmental health officers from Epping Forest Council said they believe the smoke is not harmful to humans but have been advising those living nearby to keep their windows and doors closed as a precaution.

Neighbours have continuously complained about the huge stockpile of wood at the timber yard. In November 2006, a fire broke out close to the 18m (60ft) heap.

Meal deal makes a cheap night of going to the dogs

BOSSES at Harlow Greyhound Stadium have come up with a winning deal in a bid to tempt more spectators through the gates.

The 1p Meal Deal allows two people free admittance to the stadium in Roydon Road and two meals at the fast food outlet for just 1p.

General manager Chris Page said the idea was to build on the success of a similar initiative which ran towards the end of last year.

"In this time of recession we are hoping to keep this going for at least three months," he said.

To take advantage of the offer you must first download and complete the 1p Meal Deal voucher available from the stadium's website.

The offer is available on Wednesday and Friday evenings and is restricted to people over the age of 18. Racecards and drinks are not included as part of the deal.

For more information about the deal or to download vouchers, visit the website at www.harlowgreyhounds.co.uk.

Advice service's cash cut review

FURIOUS opposition councillors have demanded an urgent review of the decision to axe public funding for Harlow's Welfare Rights and Advice Service.

Harlow Council's Conservative administration pushed through a motion to cut spending on the service at a special policy and resources committee meeting last month.

The move left the future of the service – which offers residents free advice on debt, benefits and unemployment – hanging in the balance unless alternative funding can be secured to keep it running at the Advice Centre in East Gate.

Now former Labour leader Tony Durcan and his political colleague Edna Stevens have challenged the cut in funding – which amounted to almost £500,000 last year – and asked for the issue to be called-in for consideration by the scrutiny committee.

They claim the decision-making process was "fundamentally flawed" because the welfare working party was not fully aware of the detrimental impact the decision would have on service provision and the matched funding the service received from other sources.

By CHRIS MOSS
moss@hertsexnews.co.uk

Mr Durcan told the Star: "We are 100 per cent behind the Welfare Rights and Advice Service – it is a shining example of a local service that has made an invaluable contribution to the local community and we will not let it go under without a fight."

"What really amazes me about the decision is that Tory councillors can claim to be committed to supporting residents through these difficult times, then in the same breath announce drastic and unjustified cuts to a vital service that does just that – it's incredibly disingenuous."

Policy and resources committee chairman Simon Carter confirmed the decision will now be studied by the scrutiny committee but said it would be "inappropriate" to comment further in advance of the meeting, the date of which has yet to be set.

Our New Year party girl

A DANCING queen began 2009 a little lighter on her feet after giving birth to her third child early on New Year's morning.

Just hours before delivering baby girl Amy-Jo (6lb 8oz), Donna Matthews (37), of Jerounds, Harlow, was dancing the night away at a party to welcome in the New Year.

But as she settled down, contractions started and husband Cliff (40) rushed her to Princess Alexandra Hospital where she gave birth just minutes after arriving at 5.45am.

Homeless shelter stays open during cold snap

HARLOW'S homeless centre is staying open around the clock in an unprecedented response to the current cold snap.

As the town shivers in freezing temperatures, Harlow Council has asked Streets2Homes to run 24 hours a day until the weather warms up.

It is the first time the Wych Elm charity, facing a financial battle to stay open, has been asked to help in such a way. It usually opens during the day from Sunday to Friday, offering food, clothing and bedding for those living on the streets.

Manager Patsy Dye said the money readers have donated as a result of a campaign by the Star has helped towards covering the cost of the extended hours.

Council's housing committee chairman Joshua Jolles said: "All councils have to make provision for rough sleepers when temperatures are zero degrees Celsius or lower for three consecutive nights."

"We were made aware that about 10-15 people used the night shelter over the Christmas and New Year period. This is the first time the council has paid towards a night shelter due to severe weather, which is being experienced across the country."

"In this weather it's a concern if even only one person is sleeping rough and we are working with Streets2Homes to provide the appropriate support."

New homes found for worried Angle tenants

A HOMELESSNESS crisis has been averted by a collaboration which has seen almost all tenants of Harlow's doomed Angle building find somewhere new to live.

Residents feared they would be left homeless following housing association South Anglia Housing's decision to close the Fourth Avenue building to make way for affordable homes.

But the company has worked with Harlow charity Streets2Homes to assist residents with viewings, Housing Benefit applications, landlord mediation, paying for removal services and securing funding for a bond scheme providing short-term loans for deposits for those moving to private accommodation.

As a result, 52 of the 60 tenants have now been re-homed.

A South Anglia Housing spokeswoman said: "The last few remaining residents will be leaving over the next couple of weeks and we will then secure the property and continue to work closely with Harlow District Council in the development of the proposed new-build project."

Safety comes first

SIR, Councillor Eddie Johnson's comments are laughable ('Spoilsports', December 18). He can't possibly live in Harlow because he would know there are no safe designated areas in this town for children to play.

I'm a responsible parent and I am happy to supervise them. Now where shall we go? The new skatepark? Maybe not, as that's the place where, in broad daylight during the summer holidays, two young boys were brutally mugged.

The playgrounds? Forget it. You will be outnumbered and intimidated by the foul-mouthed louts who hang out there.

The local swimming pool? Oh no, we don't have one any more, do we?

There is only one place my children are truly safe to play and that is outside my house. There is already a 'No ball games' sign there but I will continue to ignore it! I would much rather take the risk of causing damage to someone's property than one of my children being assaulted.

Wake up Harlow Council, this town is engulfed by the yob culture which is sweeping this country. Rather than waste police and council officers' time enforcing your new rules, why don't you use these resources to supervise designated areas so our children can play safely?

They play in the streets outside their homes because they are the safest places to be.

Jenny Lucking
Willowfield, Harlow

Adults in charge

SIR, What do I think of Harlow Council banning ball games and skateboards in certain locations? Fantastic. This could be the beginning of adults in charge.

No more flowers crushed in my garden, no

A better way to dispose of our refuse

SIR, With reference to your report about Harlow Council considering setting street fine targets, does council leader Andrew Johnson really believe residents do not know that by saying "considering" he really means it has made up its mind and is now just ticking boxes for its next inspection by the now totally discredited Audit Commission.

When they impose wheelie bins on us, council snoopers can jump out of our shrubbery and persecute residents for not complying with the arbitrary rules. So much for local democracy, community engagement and justice.

In order to bring wheelie bins to Harlow, the council will have to purchase more than 130,000 bins. It will have to store them, distribute them and then employ more staff to educate and coerce residents to use them.

Residents will have to make 260,000 return trips each week to their boundary and bin men will have to make 460,000 return trips from our boundaries and the dustcart each week to empty them.

Sounds fun, doesn't it? And that's without the seven per cent of households the council says are unsuitable for wheelie bins.

There is a better way – place refuse stations at strategic points around our estates. It's a system used across America, Canada, Australia and Italy and is also used over here by businesses, flats and holiday complexes.

A few of the advantages are that dustcarts are already equipped to empty the bins. No special day or time for residents to put rubbish out for collection – just drop your bag of rubbish when you are passing, taking the children to school, going shopping or work. What could be simpler?

Back in 1993/4, resident groups proposed this system in its recommendation on recycling. Harlow Council officers said that we had no chance as it would not bring any benefit to the council or its workers. So, no chance now then!

Mike Carr
Rundells, Harlow

SIR, Why do Essex County Council and Harlow District Council make taxpayers sort rubbish into recyclable and non-recyclable groups?

It is their statutory responsibility to raise recycling rates to agreed levels, not the taxpayers. Why should I spend my time sorting through my rubbish into these two groups when I don't know the difference between a recyclable and a non-recyclable envelope?

The job of recycling is a technical one and beyond the ability of the majority of citizens. Do you know which plastics are recyclable and which are not? I don't and I'm a graduate with a keen interest in science and technology.

A lot of money is being saved by the authorities in making the taxpayer sort their own rubbish. We are being used.

It's time all rubbish was put into one big bin and the council employees sorted it themselves. That way no bins will ever get contaminated and 100 per cent recycling rates will happen, thus making everybody happy, including Al Gore.

Aran Black
Gibson Court, Harlow

yobbo language, no plastic bottles and cardboard boxes, no noise, no skateboards up and down the street 'til 10pm when they decide to go home leaving the pavement piled high with bricks and boards they have built to jump over.

Are we now going to be able to leave windows open? I am feeling dizzy with the excitement of it all.

Surely some lawyers must be checking the little darlings' civil and human rights, so I won't hold my breath.

Ban is welcome

SIR, Congratulations and best wishes for a successful outcome to Harlow councillors in their efforts to ban ball games and skateboarding from residential and garage areas.

These activities create anti-social behaviour, damage to property and danger to the public. They should be restricted to purpose-built playing fields which, in my area, are underused.

Well done, councillors. Please carry on with the good work on behalf of all Harlow residents and not just a few of the selfish ones.

Waste of energy

SIR, Your caption under the picture of Harlow Civic Centre – “Inefficient” – was so appropriate for the news the offices had one of the worst energy efficiency ratings.

To obtain an average rating will require almost half the present kWh consumption. What a saving!

I suggest there may be a second meaning of ‘inefficient’, namely that of some of the council managers, because surely one or more would have been responsible for this aspect of the building at an early stage. It seems incredible to have seemingly ignored energy efficiency even a few years ago.

A. Buckman
Denby Grange, Harlow

Save advice centre

SIR, I was shocked to read your report on the threat to Harlow’s Welfare Rights and Advice Service (Star, December 31).

In 1985, I had to retire due to disablement. From being a high earner I was suddenly catapulted into basic benefits and, as I had no idea of how we were going to manage, I went to the advice centre.

It was there I met Sue Jones, the lady quoted in your article. I can say from the help I received from her and others it completely turned my life around and I shall be eternally grateful to each of them.

So can the Tories see that in this time of recession there will be many more people who will find themselves in the same position as I found myself all those years ago? Surely there are other things that are less necessary to the community that could go and so keep this most valuable service flourishing for those in most need.

A-levels alarm

SIR, I read Harlow College’s guide for 2009 and am disturbed by their reluctance to properly explain what’s happening to A-levels.

It says that a sixth form A-level partnership is planned for September. What exactly does this mean? Is it the case that principal Colin Hindmarch has finally been given what he wanted, which is to turn Harlow into a replica of Sunderland College where he also took away A-level provision?

Is it not obvious that our local schools are struggling enough to provide adequate provision for GCSEs, so how on earth are they going to cope with A-levels? I think this will put a lot of young people off continuing their studies if it means staying on at school.

Funding disgrace

SIR, Am I surprised Harlow Council is in financial turmoil? (Star, December 31). Yes and no.

I have been trying to sponsor two of Harlow’s roundabouts for the past six months, ringing the council offices weekly to try to give the council my money. Each week I am met with the usual response ‘we are not currently taking any sponsorships for the roundabouts, as we are transferring this service to a third party company for them to administer.’

So, Harlow Council doesn’t need my money. Well, according to your story they most certainly do, so what is going on?

My questions are these:

● how much revenue has the council lost whilst waiting to ‘transfer’ the administration of this service?;

● how much is it exactly going to cost the council to have this service outsourced?

We, as a small business in Harlow, need to advertise and do so using the local press, but our attitude has always been to try and give something back, so sponsoring a roundabout would seem the perfect solution.

It is a joke that they suggest council tax will rise to cover the deficit when there are businesses willing to top up the coffers but can’t get anyone to take the money.

It’s an absolute disgrace. Harlow Council fail to manage and let’s guess who pays ... same as always, you and I.

Museum move talk sparks closure fears

HARLOW museum could be moved under plans which some critics fear may see the facility shut.

Council leader Andrew Johnson has admitted the authority is looking into the possibility of re-locating The Museum Of Harlow from the Grade II listed building in Muskham Road because it is not thought to be a good location.

He said he would like to see the service run out of the Civic Centre where it will be more easily accessible to visitors and would cut down on the council’s fuel bills.

He also added that selling off the land has not been ruled out.

However, he stressed no decisions have yet been made and officers have only been instructed to look into the viability of re-location.

The announcement comes as the council looks to find £22.5m to pay for important works over the next five years.

Harlow Civic Society vice chairman John Curry said he is not happy with the idea, saying it had only been a few years since the museum was moved from Passmores House and merged with the cycle museum to create the all-encompassing service at Mark Hall.

“Where will they put it?” he asked. “There is nowhere big enough for a museum in the Civic Centre.”

Regarding any possibility of selling the land, he added: “If that happens, it would be time to leave Harlow.”

Former councillor Jane Steer said she had doubts over the council’s motives for looking into alternative locations. “I don’t see any reason why they should move it from there ... quite a lot of money has been spent on it,” she said. “It means we will not have a museum, whatever they say. They will mothball things.”

But Mr Johnson insisted a museum service must be kept in the town, adding: “The main thing is to make it a museum which is more accessible to the public.”

MP secures bus firm rebate

THE Government has finally pledged to settle a substantial bill to a Harlow bus company two months after it was due, thanks to MP Bill Rammell.

Mr Rammell had been lobbying for Whitehall to pay the outstanding balance of several thousands of pounds to Galleon Travel, in Perry Road, as part of a fuel rebate due on October 31.

Now transport minister Paul Clark has given an assurance that the payment has been made.

“In these difficult economic times, the Government needs to be doing everything in its power to help small businesses,” said Mr Rammell. Galleon Travel managing director Helen Bowden expressed her thanks for his input and said the payment

Charlotte chases Eurovision dream

PUT the Bucks Fizz on ice, the Eurovision Song Contest could soon launch the pop career of a Harlow teenager.

Charlotte Finlay-Tribe (17), of Challinor, is competing with five other acts to sing this year's UK entry.

Since its launch in 1956, the contest has sparked the careers of many pop stars including ABBA, Bucks Fizz, Brotherhood of Man and Celine Dion. Now Charlotte's family hopes she will win the public vote to perform a song written by Lord Andrew Lloyd Webber at the May final in Moscow and begin her pop career.

Dad Martyn (36) told the Star this week: "We are all just so proud of her."

Charlotte was unveiled to the public in the BBC's Your Country Needs You programme on Saturday and will sing in a live performance to be aired on BBC1 this weekend.

Those who survive the live shows will continue to perform and face the public vote for the next four weeks until the winner is chosen. Mr Finlay-Tribe said he, wife Kim (37) and children Oscar (12) and Esme (nine months) will be glued to their TV on Saturday.

"Charlotte has been singing since she was really young and went to the Sylvia Young school. We are just all so proud and we really want the public to get behind her because she is a Harlow girl," he said.

In her profile on the BBC website, Charlotte lists her likes as vintage fashion, high heels, Nandos and Chinese food. She was part of the West End cast of Chitty Chitty Bang Bang and has appeared in TV adverts and music videos as a dancer.

"I'm excited about being in the show, but amazed at how quickly everything has happened," she said.

Lord Lloyd Webber, who is composing a new number for the finalist to sing, has scoured the country with his casting team for the Euro-wannabes and scrutinised more than 1,000 showreels and audition tapes.

"Our chosen acts face a terrific challenge if they make it to Moscow," he said. "On the one hand, they have to entertain more than 20,000 people in a vast arena, and on the other they have to engage with over 100 million viewers sitting at home watching in their front room."

Your Country Needs You is on BBC 1 at 6.45pm Saturday.

RN Sam's on the crest of a wave

ROYAL Navy recruit Sam Kellow has won a top prize after completing his basic training.

Sam (20), who comes from Harlow, was selected as class leader during the nine-week course at HMS Raleigh and took charge in the absence of their instructor. Rising to the challenge, he led his team to the Ganges Trophy, collecting top marks along the way.

The former Passmores School pupil, pictured left, joined the Royal Navy in October. "It's been an amazing nine-week adventure with a very rewarding end," he said.

Mr Kellow, who previously worked as a vehicle technician, will now report to HMS Sultan in Hampshire to continue his training.

Climber Ben's cold start to the new year

By LOUISE SASSOON
News Editor
sassoonl@hertsessexnews.co.uk

NEW Year celebrations were put on ice for a Harlow man currently undertaking a 20-day trek up one of the world's highest mountains.

Ben Stickley, of Parndon Wood, is taking on Aconcagua, the highest peak in the southern hemisphere to raise money for the Red Cross.

He left home last month and is tackling the final stages of his trip in which he has been facing all weathers, with temperatures as low as -25°C at the top of the 6,962m Andean mountain.

Speaking to the Star before his departure, Ben, a member Chelmsford Mountaineering Club, said: "I love mountaineering and have climbed a lot in the UK and Europe but the conditions and altitude on this expedition will be something I've not experienced before. I'm excited and nervous about the challenge!"

Ben works as an internal communications officer for the Red Cross in London and has spent the past few months busily preparing for the trip. All money he raises will be donated to the Red Cross' work in the UK and overseas.

"I see every day what an amazing difference Red Cross volunteers make in local communities and around the world," he said. "I'm very proud to be a part of such a fantastic organisation and delighted I can take this opportunity to raise funds for such a good cause."

A Red Cross spokeswoman said: "It's fantastic Ben is using his skills in this way to support the work the Red Cross does to help those in crisis, both overseas and in the UK."

Salvation Army gives thanks

VOLUNTEERS who helped make Christmas Day special for people living alone have been thanked for their efforts.

Kind-hearted people throughout Harlow took time out to help prepare and cook a turkey dinner for those living by themselves in the town who attended the town's Salvation Army Christmas Together day on December 25.

They also picked up and dropped off those who would otherwise have not been able to get to the charity's Tending Road base.

Tesco in Church Langley, Andersons bakery in Bush Fair, Bookers in North Weald and Sheppards butchers in Bush Fair were also thanked for their donations of food and other gifts.

A Salvation Army spokesman said: "From the Salvation Army in Harlow, a very big thank-you to everybody that helped and donated things for our Christmas Together."

Invite to join Fellowship

A NATIONAL charity for retired or soon-to-be retired NHS staff is looking for members to its new Harlow branch.

The NHS Retirement Fellowship will hold its first meeting in the town on January 21 at 5.30pm in Parndon Hall, at the Princess Alexandra Hospital site.

Regional representative Audrey Harris said: "This charity currently has 16,000 members. It would be great to set it up locally and invite all those people who have worked in the NHS to join. It is open to anyone, regardless of their previous profession. Members would have the opportunity to participate in theatre trips, meetings and special interest groups."

The Fellowship is organised in partnership with the PAH and West Essex NHS PCTs so like-minded people can meet and enjoy an array of activities and events. For more information, call Ms Harris on (01268) 282221.

Memorial ceremony an uplifting occasion

BEREAVED families came together to remember loved ones at Christmas with a special memorial ceremony outside a North Weald funeral parlour.

They joined staff at Stuart Poulton Funeral Home before Christmas to release scores of commemorative balloons in memory of late friends and family members.

Mr Poulton said: "This is always a very important ceremony for our clients and it's a lovely way of remembering loved ones who sadly cannot be with their families at Christmas."

He's not so Little Richard!

AN American woman brought home more than the average bundle of joy when she gave birth to a baby almost TWICE the weight of the average newborn.

Richard Walker Sault, pictured above, was born two days before Christmas, weighing a hefty 14lbs 2oz (6.53 kilograms) to make him one of the largest babies doctors say they have ever seen.

His parents were also shocked by his size and had to go out and buy bigger clothes as the normal newborn size would not fit.

Marty Wright, department manager of labour and delivery at St Joseph Hospital in Orange County where baby Richard was born, told a local newspaper he was the biggest baby she can remember being born since she started work at the hospital 21 years ago.

The baby's father, also called Richard, said: "We thought our first baby was a miracle and now we have this little guy. Guess he's not so little!"

"Our daughter was also a big girl and she walked at 10 months. And junior here looks like he could get up and walk out of the hospital right now."

However, the baby is not the world's biggest. According to the Guinness Book of Records, the biggest was born in Canada in 1879 weighing an incredible 24lbs (10.88 kilograms).

Firefighter burned with bold invention

By LOUISE SASSOON

BEFORE the advent of the New Town, the communities in the area now occupied by Harlow were still in need of firefighting protection.

A regular correspondent to Nostalgia, who wishes to remain unnamed, sent us this picture captioned "Fire Brigade Competition, Harlow, 1910".

She points out that the bearded man seated in the front row, sixth from the left looking at the picture, is Sam Deards, who was born in Harlow in the 1840s and lived in the town all his life.

It is believed Mr Deards was one of the founders of Harlow's fire brigade and a well known local engineer, inventor and businessman.

According to a web page about the town on the Canadian Memorial University Of Newfoundland's website, which was compiled with the help of The Museum Of Harlow's David Devine, Mr Deards was regarded as one of the most dynamic and well-known of Harlow's industrialists and inventors.

"He invented a machine to make 'cinder' or building blocks using the clinker waste from the coal-fired power stations in the Lea Valley," it states.

"He also developed the so-called 'Victoria Dry Glazing' method used to install glass over large areas of roof. Liverpool Street Station in London was roofed using his system, as was the Crystal Palace when it was moved from its original site in Hyde Park to Sydenham in 1852.

"He also invented the first successful mechanical cricket scoreboard which, after its initial trials at the Marigolds Sports Field, in High Street, behind the Fire Engine House, was widely adopted throughout the UK.

"A pillar of the local community, he was a member of the fire brigade for 35 years and was captain for 30 of them."

Our correspondent adds: "Deards is said to have taken his fire engine home with him, even after the purpose-built fire station – which is still in Old Harlow – was constructed; that got up the nose of the fire brigade's co-founder and caused rows between the two men."

How Kingsmoor filled in the gaps

OUR request for memories of Kingsmoor House continues to generate a good response.

This time, former worker Sheila Marchant writes in to tell us what she and ex-colleague Babs Gewett recall of the services offered within the Victorian mansion manor house, which is now boarded up after being ravaged by fire.

She also enclosed photographs and cuttings of articles written when the council-run family services centre was in its heyday in the 1980s. The literature describes the house as being a focal point of the urban community in Harlow, offering much-needed services of a pre-school unit for under-fives, day care and nursery education.

The service grew extensively in the late '80s, offering an array of activities to youngsters as well as their parents; groups included a hyperactive children's group, pre-menstrual tension support group and a self-help group. The building was mothballed in 2006.

Mrs Marchant writes: "We both worked there right from its opening in April, 1981. It was an amazing place to work in and we are both extremely sad that it had to close. Many families over the years have benefited from the services provided.

"The opening of Kingsmoor House, a family centre focusing in under-20s, was the brainchild of former head of community services Dermot Byrne, at Harlow Council, supported by the wonderful Rene Morris and Jean McAlpine – councillors at the time.

"Kingsmoor was a response to the great gap in services for under-fives in Harlow in the early '80s, Essex County Council being a very poor provider of nursery education or day care."

RATE-CAP THREAT TO TOWN SERVICES

The Playhouse, Sportcentre and many other council-funded facilities are under threat if the Government rate-capping bill is made law, warns council leader Tom Farr. The Playhouse, Leah Manning Centre and Harlow Council For Voluntary Service rely heavily on council support. In two years' time, the council would spend £8m a year on these services but councillor Farr fears Whitehall may cut this to £2m.

FOOTBALL CLUB BID FOR MORE CASH

A special lottery is being run by Harlow Town Football Club to raise much-needed cash for the club's soaring expenses. The 1,000 Club hopes to have a weekly £250 draw if it attracts 1,000 members.

A schoolboy claims he saw a UFO hovering over Harlow. Thirteen-year-old Jason, of Morningtons, told the Star he saw a big saucer-shaped object in the sky about 250 metres above the houses.

Probe into cause of tower block fire

AN investigation is under way after fire broke out in a Harlow tower block.

Firefighters were called to Edmunds Tower, in Haydens Road, at about 12.20pm on Friday after receiving reports of a blaze which is thought to have started in a first floor flat.

A small number of residents were evacuated from the 12-storey building while crews tackled the fire, which was reported to be out shortly after 1pm.

One witness said: "It looked to be quite serious; one of the windows of the flat which faces the road looked black and there were two or three fire appliances in the street."

Hotspot bench makes a mark at beauty spot

VISITORS to a beauty spot can now put their feet up in style after the first in a number of initiatives given funding by the Star-backed Harlow Hotspots project was unveiled.

A hand-carved oak bench has been put in place at Hawkenbury Meadow after Parndon Wood Nature Reserve, in which it lies, won the public vote in last summer's competition run by Harlow Renaissance.

Danny Kings, a spokesman for Wildspace! Volunteers which put forward the project to the Hotspots competition, said: "I was very pleased we won the money and I was very excited about the first project at Hawkenbury Meadow because I was the one who designed and carved the bench.

"The wood we used was oak from Parndon Wood and we hope to do this in more of our nature reserves in Harlow."

Parndon Wood Nature Reserve and Hawkenbury won the competition in a public vote via the Star website and at the Town Show.

Work due to be undertaken includes dredging the pond, tree coppicing and replacing the pathway.

TV appeal for families to swap trash for cash

A TELEVISION director from Harlow is looking for families in her home town to star in a new daytime series which will help them de-clutter their homes and raise money for worthwhile causes.

The BBC1 programme Trash To Cash, which starts filming a second series later this month, needs potential candidates who want to see their homes cleared of unwanted household items that have built up over the years, helping a local charity in the process.

Producer/director Jules Whomsley said: "There's very much a green element to the series, with the emphasis on recycling, refurbishing and repairing the clutter instead of throwing it away or dumping.

"The majority of the items we clear from the property are sold to the public at a house sale. Half of the proceeds of the sale go to the those taking part and the other half to charity."

Anyone interested in talking part in the show should email her at jules.whomsley@reefiv.com or call series researcher Rebecca Hevingham on 020 7836 8595.

Jazzercise

JAZZERCISE combines elements of jazz dance, resistance training, Pilates, yoga, kick-boxing and more to create truly effective programs for people of every age and fitness level. You can increase your muscle tone, flexibility, balance, strength, and endurance using easy-to-follow movements. Each 60-minute class follows a perceived exertion curve.

Cardio: Following the warm-up segment, dance your way through high-energy aerobic routines sure to get your blood pumping. Strengthen your heart and lungs, increase your endurance, decrease stress, burn calories and put a smile on your face!

Strength: Strengthen and tone all of those important areas in the Jazzercise muscle-toning segment. Focus on specific muscles with additional intensity by using hand-held or wrap weights.

Stretch: At the end of each class, the cool-down stretch segment will help you elongate your muscles to increase flexibility, return your heart rate to normal, and prepare you for whatever awaits you on the other side of the door.

Jazzercise, created by Judi Sheppard Missett, is the world's leading dance fitness program choreographed to today's hottest music, including Top 40, jazz, country, funk, and classics.

Since 1969, millions of people of all ages and fitness levels have reaped the benefits of this comprehensive program. When you love your workout, results come easy - especially at Jazzercise.

For more information please visit the official Jazzercise website at www.jazzercise.com.

Premier Dance

PREMIER Dance offers classes for pleasure and personal achievement, suitable for all ages starting from pre-school youngsters who love to sing and dance, to infants who are introduced to ballet, tap and modern theatre dance styles. Juniors can begin training for their Imperial Society of Teachers of Dance professional exams and teenagers can also include jazz dance.

For adults there are the ever-popular beginners' tap dance and improvers' classes, so there is a choice for each family member, which helps towards a healthy lifestyle!

All weekly classes are held at Ware, Epping and Ongar, tutored by qualified teachers for shows and exams.

Studs and Stars

LINEDANCING with Studs and Stars isn't about cowboy hats and yee-ha's!

It's all about having fun while exercising the muscles, heart and brain and helping to maintain balance. It's listening to good music, meeting people and socialising and you don't need a partner.

There's dance to different genres of music: pop, Latin, country and anything that provides a good beat, performing all the latest dances choreographed by the country's top linedancers. Some are easy and some more challenging.

Classes are held in various venues across Herts and Essex and there are also monthly socials where you can do all the dances you have learned or just relax and enjoy the atmosphere with your new friends.

Instructor Dawn is BWDA 2000 qualified and insured and knows how to keep everyone happy on the dance floor! Studs and Stars is just one big happy family looking to welcome new members – come and see for yourself.

Rosemary Conley Diet and Fitness

ROSEMARY Conley Diet and Fitness Clubs offer members excellent value for money: for one great-value price, they receive a diet and exercise class in one!

By joining one of the 2,000 Rosemary Conley Diet and Fitness Clubs classes around the UK in January 2009 you could lose seven pounds in just 14 days!

Rosemary Conley's highly effective Gi Hip and Thigh Diet, which is now in its second successful year, can really help you to shift weight and inches faster than ever before.

By adding a low Gi twist to her original Hip and Thigh Diet, which celebrated its 20th anniversary last year, Rosemary has created a diet that has seen some amazing successes. In addition, Rosemary has introduced the revolutionary Rosemary Conley's Portion Pots® – the quick and simple way to measure portion sizes.

Says Rosemary Conley, CBE: "My Gi Hip and Thigh Diet will help slimmers to lose weight and inches faster than ever before! The ultimate combination of low fat eating with low Gi foods provides a unique formula for rapid weight loss.

"Overestimating portion sizes is one of the biggest reasons why dieters don't lose weight as fast as they'd like, so, by using my innovative Portion Pots®, they really can't go wrong as the portion sizes will be easily controlled.

"Our specially qualified instructors can really help slimmers to achieve the figure they've always dreamed of, as well as transform their general health and fitness levels."

Rosemary Conley Diet and Fitness Clubs is the only national slimming organisation in the UK to offer exercise and dietary advice in the same class.

Members receive a copy of Rosemary Conley's Gi Hip and Thigh Diet along with a set of the revolutionary Rosemary Conley's Portion Pots® – the quick and simple way to measure portion sizes – along with a personal calorie allowance based on their age, gender and current weight.

Following a consultation and weigh-in with the class instructor, members also receive a five minute motivational and informative talk and a 45-minute exercise to music session.

The cost of joining a Rosemary Conley Diet and Fitness Club is just £10 for a membership pack including a free set of Portion Pots® and £5.50 for the weekly class fee.

Lucky George wins council's energy draw

A LUCKY homeowner is due to receive a belated Christmas gift from Harlow Council tomorrow (Friday) for completing an energy efficiency survey.

George Russell, of Abbotswold, was one of 3,000 residents to receive the survey and will be rewarded with £320 cash and a home energy savings pack after his completed entry won the prize draw.

The information gathered in the town-wide audit will give the authority information on levels of fuel poverty and used to assist the worst-affected households.

Environment and community committee chairman Eddie Johnson said: "While the council is doing all it can to help those struggling with fuel poverty, some action on the part of those affected is also needed. "The result of the survey will enable the council and its partners to identify those homes which are not energy-efficient and provide help to bring those homes up to a sufficient standard to reduce energy bills significantly."

Silver award for one-year Scout

BOY Scout Joseph Montalbano has something to smile about after scooping the highest achievement award for his age, despite being with the movement for only a year.

The 10-year-old from 21st Church Langley Scout Group won the Silver Chief Scout Award for proving himself during a number of challenges and adventures during the past year.

The award requires a high level of commitment and includes a variety of tasks.

Joseph, from Harlow, is one of only 10 youngsters in the town to be awarded the accolade this year.

Patrols increase over 'job' fears

POLICE have increased patrols in Old Harlow amid concerns that jobs from another part of town have been pushed into the area by a dispersal order active in their own neighbourhood.

Officers are responding to increased reports of anti-social behaviour. It is thought young troublemakers have moved in from The Stow, made the subject of a dispersal order in November.

Health alarm raised over pub's 99p pints

A NATIONAL pub chain has slashed the price of a pint to just 99p in a move health campaigners have branded irresponsible.

JD Wetherspoon, which owns The William Aylmer in Harlow, has cut the cost of Greene King IPA and four other alcoholic drinks in a bid to spread a bit of post-Christmas cheer among drinkers.

And unlike a typical January sale, the promotion – which has also seen the cost of five meals drop to just £2.99 each – will run indefinitely at the Kitson Way pub.

Pub manager Gemma Madden said: "People enjoy going to the pub, but I appreciate that the economic downturn means they now have to be more careful with their money."

However, the promotion has been heavily criticised by pressure group Alcohol Concern amid fears the price cuts will lead to binge drinking.

Charity chief executive Don Shenker said: "Understandably, in the current economic climate businesses need to be competitive and people are worried by living costs."

"However, alcohol is not an ordinary commodity like bread or milk. Alcohol causes harm to the nation's health and economy and

moss@hertsessexnews.co.uk

there appears to be a strong link between cheap alcohol and the high levels of binge drinking."

In October 2007, Liverpool University research showed the life expectancy of the average Harlow male is affected more by heavy drinking than those living elsewhere in eastern England, putting the town among the UK's worst for alcohol-induced premature deaths.

Philomena Lawrence, of Harlow Alcohol and Drugs Advisory Service, added: "For people who are addicted to alcohol, price is not going to have a huge impact – it is the binge-drinking youth culture where cheaper alcohol is more likely to have a negative impact."

But Harlow police inspector Andy Bray said he was not unduly concerned about the offer because he believed it would not necessarily lead to a rise in public order offences.

"The thing that concerns me more is establishments that offer a fee on the door in exchange for free drink all night," he said.

"However, the responsibility for the behaviour of patrons, both inside and outside the premises, is that of the licensee and that responsibility will be monitored, as has always been the case with licensed premises."

Park piggies take a bow

THE festive period also marked new arrivals at Harlow's popular Pets Corner in the shape of a litter of Essex piglets.

Ten pigs were born on Boxing Day evening to the Town Park attraction's resident Essex Saddleback breeding sow Maggie. Staff say the healthy piglets, seven of which were female, all have good markings and are fine examples of the rare breed.

Outdated signs point the way to frustration

COUNCIL officials have again been criticised for failing to remove street signs more than 10 years out of date.

Despite tireless campaigning by Harlow Civic Society, Harlow and Essex County councils are still to remove the outdated information boards in Haydens Road and Broad Walk.

The boards point to the old college site in College Square, despite the facility being located in Velizy Avenue since 1997; the former Town Hall, which was demolished in 2004; and the Odeon Cinema in West Gate, which closed several years ago.

The two signs remain despite the authorities removing similar incorrect boards after Civic Society lobbying.

Society member Ron Bill said: "We all celebrated when the sign was taken down outside Marks and Spencer a few weeks ago, because we thought the other ones would be taken down."

Essex County Council, responsible for the Haydens Road sign, said it would be removed 'imminently'.

Harlow Council, said work to correct the sign in Broad Walk is ongoing as part of a wider maintenance programme.

Party all day for the Chinese New Year

BANISH the post-Christmas blues with a bang next Sunday by joining the spectacular Chinese New Year celebrations in Harlow town centre.

Arranged by Essex County Council as part of the Essex Jiangsu Festival, the colourful China Towns event promises fireworks, theatre, stilt-walking and amazing acrobatics. Beginning with a burst of firecrackers and a traditional lion dance in West Square at 1pm, spectators can join a short procession to the Harvey Centre where they can enjoy a whole afternoon of Eastern entertainment, including tai chi and kung fu displays, ribbon dancing and traditional Chinese music.

The shopping centre will also host a wealth of arts and crafts activities including calligraphy and face-painting, while those making the short trip to Harlow Library will get the opportunity to hear a selection of Chinese stories.

As the shops begin to close at 4pm, the performers will join spectators in a final procession to The Water Gardens, where the day's events will be rounded off with a spectacular fireworks display.

● FOR more information on the China Towns event, visit www.essex-china.org.

A second literary voyage for Steve

By CHRIS MOSS

A PROFESSIONAL wrestler is swapping the canvas for the printed page as he attempts to sail to literary success with the publication of his second pirate-themed children's novel.

Steve Hannam may be a familiar name to hundreds of fight fans who cheer on his acrobatic exploits in the Wrestlefest ring, but many may not realise the burly grappler has a somewhat more subdued second career as a children's writer.

Having already had his first book The Ever-So Heroic Adventures Of Captain Square Jaw published to critical acclaim back in 2006, the affable author has now written a sequel – Square Jaw And The Jewel Of Essex – under his nom de plume of Danson Thunderbolt.

Infused with a quintessentially English eccentricity and brimming with Spike Milligan-esque surreal comedy, the book follows the hilarious exploits of hapless pirate captain Nelson Square Jaw as he attempts to retrieve the mysterious Jewel Of Essex and hand it over to a gang of cut-throats who have taken his motley crew hostage.

The two tall tales are now available in one volume and Steve hopes the eagerly anticipated follow-up will be met with the same enthusiasm as his first effort.

"It's been a couple of years in the making, but I'm very pleased with how the second Square Jaw adventure has turned out," he told the Star.

"I'm a huge fan of Spike Milligan and The Goons and I wanted to create something in the same vein as those eccentric heroes of British comedy and, although it's billed as a children's book, it's really aimed at everyone aged between nine and 99.

"I had great feedback on the first book from as far afield as Canada and I'm hoping everyone who enjoyed the first book will enjoy the sequel just as much."

Copies of Steve's book are available from a variety of online retailers, including www.amazon.co.uk and www.waterstones.co.uk.

Clashing date for big day puts the devil brides out

BRIDE WARS
certificate PG, running time 1h29m

NOTHING is more stressful than the day a woman marries – everything must be perfect, from the cut of the bridesmaids' dresses to the arrangement of flowers in the bouquets and the catering at the reception.

In Bride Wars, fate jeopardizes the happy day of two pals and lights the touchpaper on an increasingly bitter war of words and actions.

High-powered lawyer Liv (Kate Hudson) and caring schoolteacher Emma (Anne Hathaway) are best friends who share the same dream: to marry in the splendour of New York's famed Plaza Hotel.

Thanks to event planner Marion St Claire (Candice Bergen), the women both get their wish, just weeks apart, and excitedly begin to plan every detail of their big days.

Then disaster strikes – due to an administrative error, only one of them can walk down the aisle at the venue. Reluctant to give up their fantasy, Liv and Emma set about sabotaging each other's weddings so only one of them will be able to tie the knot at the Plaza while their respective fiancés, Daniel (Steve Howey) and Fletcher (Chris Pratt), look on in disbelief as their wives-to-be metamorphose into crazed Bridezillas.

still on screen

YES MAN A comedy about what would happen if someone said 'yes' to everything that would have been previously dismissed with a cursory 'no'. Carl Allen (Jim Carrey) is a man going nowhere, still nursing the wounds of a break up with his girlfriend. He attends a self-help seminar, and is publicly shamed into embracing the power of 'yes'. Subsequently, he lands a promotion and catches the eye of painter and singer Allison (Zoëy Deschanel).

AUSTRALIA Epic Outback romance set on the eve of the Second World War.

BEDTIME STORIES Adam Sandler tries to cash in on tales that come true.

MADAGASCAR: ESCAPE 2 AFRICA The New York Zoo escapees head for their homeland.

TWILIGHT Angsty teen vampires and humans fall in love.

WALL-E A diminutive recycling robot gets a shot at love and saving the future human race.

CITY OF EMBER A subterranean city faces a crisis when it begins to run out of generating power.

ENCHANTED A fairytale princess is transported to modern New York and gets the chance to see if storybook romances can work for real.

DEFIANCE
certificate 15
running time 2h19m

EDWARD Zwick's historical drama is a stirring tale of real heroism and sacrifice in the Second World War. Unfortunately, awe and wonder at the incredible facts underpinning the film gradually wane as the script, co-written with Clayton Frohman, moves at a pedestrian pace through competent action scenes and lacklustre exchanges.

As Hitler's army marches through Belarussia, three Jewish brothers escape to lead hundreds of survivors into the dense forests.

While Tuvia Bielski (Daniel Craig) and his gentle, youngest sibling Asael (Jamie Bell), pictured above right, establish an ever-expanding community beneath the tree canopy, fiery-tempered middle son Zus (Liev Schreiber) refuses to stand by as his people are wiped out.

He abandons the refuge with men in tow and aligns himself with the charismatic commander of a partisan group determined to strike at the Nazi machine.

ROLE MODELS
certificate 15
running time 1h38m

THE latest foul-mouthed bro-mantic comedy in the Judd Apatow mould (Superbad, Pineapple Express) is a genuinely funny escapade milking every guffaw from its fish-out-of-water scenario.

Role Models doesn't deviate once from a well-trodden path of breast gags, wanton stupidity and hard-fought-for redemption but has an undeniable charm and some terrific one-liners as it extols the virtues of fraternal love.

The lively patter between lead stars Paul Rudd, who co-wrote the script, and Seann William Scott as a pair of puerile thirty-something degenerates forced to think like adults for once is a winner.

Inevitably, by becoming mentors to two troubled youths after being ordered to carry out community service, these men behaving badly grow up and finally lead by example.

SEX DRIVE
certificate 15
running time 1h49m

BAKED to an American Pie recipe, Sex Drive is a filthy-minded teen comedy about two best friends and their unexpected romantic detours during a road trip in search of physical satisfaction.

One half of the central double-act is a reluctant virgin determined to remedy that situation before starting college, the other is a carefree purveyor of chat-up lines who's so laidback he's positively horizontal.

The central odyssey of randy indiscretions and male bonding takes all of the usual twists and turns, right down to the inclusion of the virgin's longtime female best friend, who turns out to be his perfect match.

TONIGHT

What better way to kick off the new year than with round one, heat one of the 2009 Rock Contest featuring the following three bands:

Great Scott Formed out of a quick jam session at Harlow College, these four lads play a varied selection ranging from indie to pop, funk to blues and latin to rock.

Ubaldo Esteban Four-piece playing a mixture of rock, alternative and acoustic.

Gravity Four piece rock 'n' roll outfit featuring Mark Palmer on lead vocals/rhythm guitar, Daniel Palmer on lead guitar/backing vocals, Gino Arnone on drums and Mario Bakridan on bass.

Doors open at 8pm and admission is £5.

FRIDAY

Keep your windows shut and scream if you hear the sweet jangles lashing from the guitar when Harlow's own masters of ear noise, The Baron & The General, play their first gig of the new year. Support comes from Harlow punk poet and philosopher Gazzy Rox. Doors open at 8pm and admission is £4.

SATURDAY

It's preview night for The Harlow Bands Family Tree. Were you involved with the local music scene during the past 40 years? Pop along to proof read or add any last minute information before the launch on February 7. In addition DJs will be playing the best music from Harlow acts. Doors open at 8pm and admission is free.

SUNDAY

With a new slot on the second Sunday of the month, the quiz night returns. Doors open at 8pm.

"Here we go again, another exciting year in front of us, and keen for the challenge!

We have sifted through our records and made some very interesting conclusions. For example, whereas the national media have suggested as much as a 20% drop in property values over the last year, in and around Harlow, it has not been so drastic, particularly in Church Langley where 'the norm' is averaging around 10%

Our opinion attached to each property listed in this advert is based on what was probably the value of similar homes for sale during last year.

The information is based on our own records and public sources such as 'rightmove' and The Land Registry.

Looking for a future career in Field Sales?

Telemarketing Executive - Full-time

Attractive basic, plus commission
(OTE £30k first year)

A new and exciting opportunity has arisen for a Telemarketing Executive with potential to develop into Field Sales within a successful and expanding organisation in business to business sales.

Your role as Telemarketing Executive will be to build and develop new business by generating quality appointments for our team of Field Sales Executives. In return we offer an attractive basic salary plus

Assistant Subject Leader for Technology

TLR 2a (£2,422)

Required April 2009.

The Design and Technology Department at Stewards School is successful and well resourced.
We wish to appoint an excellent Teacher to become Assistant Subject Leader. The successful candidate will support the Subject Leader in promoting the department's vision for the future and in day to day management.

Specific areas of responsibility will be agreed upon appointment.

Examination results have improved significantly over the last five years. Students are enthusiastic about the subject and demonstrate a positive attitude towards their work.

We offer very good facilities and resources including an ICT and Multi Media Suite.
The Food Technology area has just been refurbished and includes Catering and Hospitality facilities.

Details available from Mrs Wood,
Headteacher's PA, at the school.
Closing date: 23/01/2009.

Essex County Council

APPLICATION TO ALTER THE DEFINITIVE MAP OF PUBLIC RIGHTS OF WAY: EPPING FOREST DISTRICT AND NAVESTOCK PARISH (IN BRENTWOOD BOROUGH)

The Definitive Map and Statement of Public Rights of Way for the County of Essex are available to the public for inspection. The Definitive Map shows Footpaths, Bridleways (for use on foot, horseback and pedal cycle), byways and restricted byways (ways established to be used by all traffic, but mainly used as Footpath and Bridleways). Public Roads (surfaced and unsurfaced) and cycle tracks are not shown because they are outside the scope of the Definitive Map.

The Map and Statement are a record of Public Rights of Way that already exist. To ensure that the Map is accurate it is modified by Orders, for example to add a Footpath which is found to be public, to reclassify a Bridleway if necessary or delete a Restricted Byway if it were included by mistake.

The County Council is now ready to receive applications for such Orders from anyone who wishes to apply for a Modification of the Definitive Map and Statement for the Epping Forest District and Navestock Parish (in Brentwood Borough).

An Application must be made on the forms supported by evidence and with a plan of the way. Application packs, including the necessary forms, notice to owners and occupiers affected and notes on how to make an application, are available from the following sources:

- The Essex County Council web site by following the link Essex County Council - Public rights of way or using Travelling/Public Rights of Way/Definitive Map as key words in a search.
- Epping Forest District Council Offices,
- Brentwood Borough Council Offices or by post from:
- The Environment and Property Law Team, Essex Legal Services, at the address below

Applications can be made from 1 January 2009 to 31 December 2009. This application period will not be extended.

If you wish to make an application or have any queries, please contact Lloyd Simpson on 01245 506716 or (in relation to Epping Forest) Mary Morris on 01245 506719 or (in relation to Navestock) Mira Brown on 01245 506712.

Admiral increase gap at the top

AN 8-1 win against CC Foxes stretched White Admiral's lead at the top to 15 points.

Servo Hawks, TG Whites and Young Pretenders are separated by three points.

Servo's 5-4 win over Whites moved them above their opponents and into second place, one point in front.

There was a 150 outshot from Servo's Dicky Foster and a 101 from Alex Hogg (TG Whites), while Servo's Jeff Etherington notched his second 180 of the season in the last match before the Christmas break.

Young Pretenders' 7-2 win over Moot House put them in fourth place one point behind Whites. Stow Snooker beat FC Wonders 8-1 with a 180 from Stow's Alan Hance.

UG went down 2-7 at home to CC Colts with Colts' Mick McNally notching two 180s.

Moot House beat Golden Swift 5-4. George Burnett (Moot House) hit a 180 in this match.

Rees takes first spot at new venue

THE penultimate coach outing for 2008 saw 22 members of Stort Valley Angling Society travel to a new venue at Whittlesey in Cambridgeshire.

Chris Rees claimed top spot with two bream for 4lbs 14ozs.

Those present totalled a meagre 13lbs 3ozs on a poor day for fishing.

The club's final outing took them to a regular venue, March.

A very cold, clear day with ice on the water made for a difficult day's fishing and the 15 members who troubled the scalesman weighed in 59lbs 13ozs.

Mick Westby was victorious with a fine 15lbs 2ozs, ahead of Danny Cruise in second place, who netted 6lbs 2ozs, just ounces ahead of Bob Groom.

The annual Fur 'n' Feather Christmas match took place on a flooded River Stort in Harlow.

A few chub and bream caught on bread punch helped Roy Deadman to first place with 9lbs 4ozs; just over 1lb ahead of Steve Turnbull and 5lbs in front of Tony Henson, occupying second and third places respectively.

Danny Cruise lifted the individual points trophy for the Harlow club with 82 points, just nine points in front of Steve Turnbull.

Cruise also won the inter-league Poole Cup as well.

Athletes secure Essex selection

TWO runners from Harlow have gained selection to run for Essex in the South of England Inter-Counties Cross Country Championships on Saturday January 31.

Marleen Avontuur (11), from Harlow Athletic Club, and Joanne Cywinski (12), from Woodford Green and Essex Ladies AC, will run in the U-13 girls race at Biggleswade in Bedfordshire.

Cywinski's club colleague Jessica Docking (17), from North Weald, will be in the junior women's race.

Avontuur qualified after coming sixth overall in the Essex League. She finished 10th in her last race (3,000m) at Chingford on Saturday.

Her Harlow AC colleague Isabel Moss was 19th. She was 21st in the series.

● KATHRINE Foy, from Epping, will be aiming for a hat-trick of golds when she competes in the 800m at the South of England Indoor Championships at the Lee Valley Athletics Centre this Sunday.

Rangers' title hopes hit by loss

THIRD-placed Langley Rangers suffered a resounding 6-0 defeat at the hands of fifth-placed Quendon Athletic in the premier division of the Footprint Bishop's Stortford, Stansted & District Football League.

Leaders North Weald beat fourth-placed Sheering 4-1. Frank Major hit a hat-trick and Ashley Brown also netted. Hatfield Heath suffered a surprise 4-1 home defeat against Birchanger.

In division one, both the title-chasers picked up comprehensive victories.

Leaders Hatfield Heath reserves defeated Thaxted Rangers reserves 11-1.

Meanwhile, second-placed Heath Rovers won 8-0 at Lower Street.

Struggling Albury picked up a valuable 2-1 win at Sheering reserves. Carl Owen replied for Sheering.

Avondale Rangers edged a five-goal thriller at home to Dunmow Rhodes.

Thorley Park moved into third spot by beating Potter Street reserves 2-0.

In the Essex Junior Cup third round, Salvation Army (Harlow) lost 3-2 to Scotia Billericay. Ben Ford and Nathan Blake replied for the hosts.

All other games involving teams in this league were postponed.

Other football results:- Essex Olympian League Snr Div League Cup 3rd rnd - Canning Tn 1, Epping 2.

Teenager's joy in race debut

TEENAGER Julian Tamplin enjoyed an excellent debut when he ran in his first Hertfordshire Cross Country League race at Harlow.

The Harlow Running Club member finished 16th in Sunday's race, just behind more experienced club colleagues Alan Broughton (9th), Roy Stevens (14th) and Steve Mackenzie (15th).

The top seven male finishers from each of the four teams counted towards the team score.

John Evans (19th), Alan Wise (29th) and Rick Ricketts (31st) were Harlow's other scoring runners, while Sean Flynn was handicapped after losing the sole on one of his running shoes midway through the race. He carried on gallantly to finish 82nd.

The race was marked by freezing conditions, but more than 100 people took part.

The five-mile course started near Mark Hall School in London Road and took runners up in a circular route towards Church Langley and back.

Harlow's three scoring female runners were Dionne

FASTEST FIRST: The start of the cross country series race in Harlow on Sunday (XR7GT99J.14)

Jones (13th), Katie Herrington (18th) and Gina Bailey (31st).

It was the first time the rapidly improving Bailey was a scoring runner. She finished a place above experienced Harlow runner Linda Selby (32nd).

Martin McColgan, the Harlow Running Club secretary, said: "The women's team score suffered because of the absence of Jenny Spelling and Vicky Steadman but Dionne Jones ran well. Alan ran yet another good race and Roy Stevens ran a blinder."

Harlow, whose team was weakened by members having to marshal and also through illness, finished third overall. Ware Joggers won the event.

Harlow are third in the series.

The final league race starts at 10.30am at Newport Free Grammar School this Sunday.

Results: 1. Ware Joggers 99 points; 2. Saffron Striders 103; 3. Harlow 195; 4. Bishop's Stortford 219. Other Harlow RC results: David Ayling 34th; Jamie Luck 39th; Pasquale Pellechia 40th; Jamie Jephcott 45th; John Bull 47th; Paul Bailey 63; Matt Jones 66th; Alan Coote 71st; Nick Luck 74th; Ron Newton 77th.

Harlow have last laugh

"Most importantly we worked hard as a unit for one another at both ends of the floor.

"We now have a couple of tough county league games and need the same level of performance on those games as the league title is wide open and anyone of six teams can win it."

It was a welcome win for Harlow, who had lost twice against Ware already this season.

Hawks went 17-4 up in the first six minutes.

After Jokers had opened the scoring, Hawks got on the scoreboard with a Dave Spashett three-pointer, followed by short jump shots by Paul Jessop and Mike Freeman.

Hawks' play at both ends forced Jokers to call a time-out after which the teams traded baskets for the rest of the quarter with Mike Haddow scores enabling Hawks to start the second quarter 27-16 ahead.

The Hawks then increased their intensity on defence forcing turnovers from which Freeman broke away for a couple of scores.

More scores came from Jessop and Gary Maitland before Jokers exploited defensive lapses but the Essex team still led 49-34 at the halfway point.

Long-distance big shots by Jessop and Spashett extended Harlow's lead to 29 points in the third quarter.

The Jokers rallied and cut Hawks' advantage to 70-50.

The Hawks needed to win by 30 points to finish top of the group and upped the ante.

At one stage Harlow had a 31-point lead but a last-ditch score allowed Ware to keep top spot.

The Hawks' final group game is at home to Southend Scorpions on Saturday January 17.

HARLOW HAWKS: Freeman (27 pts), Jessop (24), Maitland (17), Haddow (12), Niaz (11), Spashett (6), Burgess, Moss, Allan.

Robins' senior league status under threat

THE Essex Senior League future of Sawbridgeworth Town is under threat if the club does not meet new Football Association ground requirements.

The Crofter's End club needs to upgrade its facilities by March 31.

The ground must have a non-wooden stand with seating to cater for 100 people, as well as introducing a hardstanding (a concrete surface) near the pitch.

Changing rooms must also be increased in size.

Robert Errington, the League chairman, said: "The FA have said that they [the clubs] will be demoted if they do not fulfil the ground criteria. "As chairman of the League I would try and get dispensation if a club was showing they were getting things done."

The issue is set to be raised at a League meeting on Wednesday January 21.

Club chairman Steve Day said: "We are going to do the work before next season and hope there is leeway."

Sawbo lost 5-1 at home to Stansted in the Essex Senior Football League on Saturday (see www.harlowstar.co.uk for full report).

He has stressed that his Ware signings will not win automatic spots. "Paul will have to fight for a place with Leon Lalite and Jordan Fowler," he said.

Harlow go into the match after a two-week break from action following the postponements against Dartford (Ryman League) and Heybridge Swifts (Isthmian League Cup) on Saturday and Tuesday respectively.

Alzapiadi is keen to build on the win against Hornchurch.

He explained: "We did not keep the ball as well as I would have liked and I will be working on how we defend as a team over the next few weeks."

"I want to get a winning run together and get into mid-table and away from the bottom end."

Harlow will host Heybridge Swifts in a rearranged league cup tie on Tuesday.

The club have also rescheduled away league games at Dartford and Staines for Tuesday February 10 and Tuesday February 24 respectively.

Heavy cup defeat for Rams

Firstly the home pack drove over the Harlow try line, while the second came from a penalty try which was easily converted.

Only minutes later another break by the Romford forwards allowed them to drive in under the posts for an easy try which was converted to give them a 27-16 cushion.

With the game wrapped up, the Romford backs ran in three more tries, one of which was converted to complete the scoring.

Harlow came close when Simon Vanbeck, playing in an unfamiliar role in the centre, broke clear in his own half and ran 60 yards but was stopped two paces short of the try line.

HARLOW: Branch (Mahmood 65), Wilkins, Prindiville (Ephgrave 45), Palmer, Twiner (Prindiville 65), Bowring (Cochrane 31), Coates, Eynon, Woodington, McFerran, Webb, Powell, Vanbeck, Grimley, Hills.

Harlow have the last laugh

AN excellent start to the New Year was made by Harlow Hawks with a convincing 97-75 win at Ware Jokers in a National Founders Cup east group game on Saturday. Hawks player-coach

Shab Niaz, right, said: "That is the best that we have played this season." Continued on page 67

Heavy cup defeat for Rams

FLANKER Mark Bowering suffered a serious knee injury as the Rams were beaten in the first round of the Essex County Cup on Saturday.

Bowering was replaced by Robert Cochrane, making his first appearance for the first team this season, and the match was held up for several minutes.

Bowering has medial ligament damage and could be out for up to six weeks.

With the battle to avoid the drop from division three north east the main concern, Harlow rested several players for this derby.

Harlow actually led 16-13 at the break, but the hosts came back strongly in the second half to progress to the second round.

James McFerran was successful with two out of three penalties for Harlow in the first 20 minutes.

The first try came soon after this

Romford 44, Harlow 16 (Essex County Cup, first round)

as a move from the Romford backs ended with an unconverted try in the corner.

Just past the half-hour mark, the home side ran in a second unconverted try in the opposite corner to lead 10-6.

Bowering's replacement, Cochrane, made an immediate impact as he broke away from a ruck just inside the Romford 22 to charge through for a try under the posts.

McFerran converted before Romford levelled the score (13-13) with a penalty.

McFerran then kicked a third penalty to give the visitors the lead on the stroke of half-time. Soon after the break Romford scored three quick tries.

Indian star signing is coup for cricket club

FROM the Indian Cricket League to Harlow – that's the route taken by the town's new cricketing star.

All-rounder Abhishek Jhunjunwala, from Calcutta, will make his debut for the Marigolds club in April after signing as the 2009 overseas player.

The 26-year-old has played first class cricket for Bengal in Indian domestic cricket as well as for Kolkata Tigers in the Indian Cricket League.

Jhunjunwala exclusively spoke to Star Sport before he headed back out to play in the Indian 20/20 League, where he will be joined by cricketing legend Lance Klusener, from South Africa, plus New Zealand batsmen Craig McMillan when he appears for the Royal Bengal Tigers.

Jhunjunwala, who currently lives in London, played for Evesham in the Birmingham Cricket League last summer, but is looking forward to cutting down on his travelling with his new club.

He said: "It will be closer to home. Driving to Birmingham was tiring and took a long time. It will be 30 minutes from my home [in South Bermondsey]."

"I'm looking forward to it and hopefully the team can get to the next level. I want to help the youngsters and improve their cricket. I will have a few words with them about their batting and see what I can do."

For now, Jhunjunwala is keen to return to the exciting Indian 20/20 game, where the cream of the cricketing world will be competing. "They are all very experienced cricketers and you learn a lot from the way they approach the game. There is also the skill factor and there is a lot to learn," he said.

James Butler, the Harlow skipper, is hoping his new arrival will help the club mount a promotion challenge in division two of the Shepherd Neame Essex League.

He said: "For the club it's a huge thing. He is the biggest player we have had. I got in touch with a friend who plays in the Lancashire League who recommended him."

Butler added: "He will bat at number three and he will be a real help as we have youngsters like Rehman Ahmed in our top four."

"I will be surprised if he does not make 900 runs. We only made a big score once or twice last year. He should also get 40 wickets [with his off-breaks]."

The skipper added: "My brother Nick would be the first to admit that he did not bowl that well last year but he still took 32 wickets. I would be disappointed if we did not go up."

Butler also stressed that Jhunjunwala's presence will be key to the development of the club's junior sides. "He will be doing some coaching and that will be good for the youngsters to have a figurehead like him. People will be excited."

Hawks count cost of full-backs' red cards

BOTH Hawks full-backs are suspended for Saturday's home match against Maidstone United.

Right-back Mark Taylor and new signing, left-back Michael Bardle, will miss Harlow Town's Ryman League premier division game.

Taylor starts a four-game ban after being sent off against Hendon for violent conduct, while Bardle has a two-match suspension following his sending-off against AFC Hornchurch.

Paul Kear and Shaun Gliddon are set to deputise.

Midfielder Leon Lalite is also banned for two games and he will be replaced by another new recruit, Ware old boy Paul Burton. New Hawks boss Glen Alzapiedi expects Burton to link up with his former Ware colleague Sam Berry in the Harlow engine room.

He said: "The two can play really well together and Paul is very good at holding the ball and linking the play."

However, Alzapiedi is keen to foster competition for places. Continued on page 67
